

VELLUTO NERO NUMERO UNO

We wrote about them in the last issue and now we're writing about them again because Velluto Nero (Black Velvet) has been recognised as having the best coffee in Australia!

Gina, Vicky and Aileen Young started their coffee-roasting business and retail outlet less than a year ago in the centre of Sydney. Since then they have been recognised not only by the Royal Agricultural Society for their coffee-roasting but also by the Sydney Morning Herald's Good Living supplement which said, "This is the one, top of the list" when describing the coffee produced in the shop.

The girls received their first coffee-roasting medal just seven weeks after the shop opened – a gold medal in the Golden Bean Awards. If you're in Sydney, drop in to 259 Clarence Street and congratulate them and pick up some of their award-winning coffee, you won't be sorry.
